

Strategic Global Advisors LLC Selects iX Partners' Total Outsourcing Solution

Comprehensive offering brings premier investment management solution to boutique asset manager.

Today iX Partners announced the successful conversion of Strategic Global Advisor's (SGA's) entire middle and back office investment operations to their "Total Outsourcing Solution (TOS) platform. Utilizing industry leading technology and an ASP facilities in conjunction its highly-trained and experienced investment operations team, iX Partners provides complete end-to-end, post-trade investment operations services for SGA.

"For more than five-years we have been have been refining the TOS offering to meet the unique and rapidly changing challenges of the emerging and boutique asset managers", said Paul Cucurullo, managing partner of iX Partners Ltd. "Over that time, we have come to understand and appreciate their needs for flexibility, cost effectiveness and responsiveness as they seek to react to finite opportunities, regulatory requirements and the competitive nature of their marketplace. Now, we are very pleased to offer a solution that accommodates these business requirements and allows boutique asset managers, like SGA, the opportunity to use the same powerful technical and operational solutions previously available only to larger companies. This is a truly exciting concept for our clients and us."

"For SGA, it is about client service, asset growth, scalability and economics," said Cynthia Tusan, president of SGA. "This tailored solution allows us to reduce and control our operating expenses, and it enables us to devote our own critical resources to focusing on our core mission of providing investment management and service to our clients. As a result, our level of service and operational standards have been advanced, and we have confidence that iX Partners' solution will allow us to achieve our dynamic growth objectives without having to re-architect our investment operations strategy along the way."
